Chayora opens new office in Shanghai, China

Hong Kong – June 22, 2020: Chayora Limited, an international infrastructure investor, developer and operator of hyperscale data centre campuses in China, is announcing the opening of a new office in Shanghai as it continues its expansion into the rapidly expanding digital infrastructure market in China.

The new office is located in the heart of Pudong, the central Shanghai business district, directly across the Huangpu River from The Bund. It will provide the main base for and support Chayora's recently appointed Executive Vice President, Sales for China, Shining Xiao and Chayora's Executive GM for the Eastern Region, Kevin Sun and their growing team supporting sales and new developments in China. Chayora continues to expand its footprint across multiple locations in mainland China and last year opened its office in central Beijing to provide local support to the company's large data centre campus being constructed in nearby Tianjin.

"Chayora is making significant investments and is expanding rapidly within China and we celebrate the opening of this new office which will be a springboard for our establishment of data centre facilities in Shanghai and enhance the support for our staff based there," says Oliver Jones, Co-Founder and CEO, Chayora. "Shanghai, with its adjacent provinces of Jiangsu and Zhejiang, is a key location for the international finance sector, for both international and domestic cloud operators and for other key customer sectors we support, and we are delighted to open this office to join our network of other operating locations."
